

Plant Protein Phosphorylation DataBase (P3DB)

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Resource Link | Plant Protein Phosphorylation DataBase (P3DB)                                                                                                                                      |
|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Description   | The Plant Protein Phosphorylation DataBase (P3DB) contains several published proteomics datasets listing sites of protein phosphorylation and acetylation for Arabidopsis and other plant species. |
| Maintained by | Jay Thelen and Dong Xu                                                                                                                                                                             |